WHEN DISASTER STRIKES . . .

There's an expression – almost a cliché: "...if the 'crick' don't rise." However, the "crick" often does rise, as do rivers and other floodwaters to create disasters of the highest order. When they do, or when forest fires run amuck, tornadoes roll in, or hurricane winds blow, — and of course, during military operations — loads of emergency supplies are desperately needed, GSA has them.

We can't predict these emergencies; we can only plan for them. So the time to stock up on basic emergency needs is now. Because at any hour, Federal agencies under the guidance of FEMA might need to step in and lend a hand. And that's when GSA is there to lend you a hand.

Below, you will find some of GSA's basic necessity items. There are hundreds more. So, check your needs now. Tomorrow, you may be too busy.
